

Ashlock Formation Terrain, Outer Bluegrass

Limestones underlying the Outer Bluegrass, like the Ashlock Formation in Washington County, provide rich soils for agriculture and attractive sites for rural residential construction. Thoughtful planning can minimize conflicting interests and accommodate the needs of all. Photo by Dan Carey, Kentucky Geological Survey.

