The Creation Museum in northern Boone County rests on the limestone and shale of the Ordovician Bull Fork Formation laid down in an ancient sea 450 million years ago.