

Pavement Failure

Mountainous topography can make road construction difficult. Rights-of-way are often extremely steep, and subject to landslides, as in this case in northern Pike County on Ky. 881 built on the Four Corners Formation. Photo by Bart Davidson, Kentucky Geological Survey.