From 1980 through 2006 the region provided 98% of the natural gas production in Kentucky. The value of the region’s production was over $4 billion. The top 10 counties in the region produced 92% of the state total and more than 1/3 of that was from Pike County. Most of the production comes from the Devonian Shale in the Big Sandy Gas Field.